

BY WAY OF A BEGINNING.
Valuable time is passing, and no decisive steps are being taken to crystallize the sentiment which is absolutely indispensable in securing for New York City the World's Fair in 1902. Before Congress recognizes and indorses New York City it will be necessary for New York City to demonstrate that it is in earnest. Through the unaccountable procrastination of a Committee appointed to devise a financial plan no Guarantee Fund has been provided and no real steps have been taken to convince the country that New York is determined in this matter. A fund is absolutely necessary. The public has shown a willingness to contribute, but the lack of an authoritative plan has deterred action.

To give an impetus to the now flagging enterprise and to inaugurate a preliminary movement towards securing the World's Fair for New York, the editor and proprietor of THE WORLD, JOSEPH PULITZER, will be one of twenty-five persons to subscribe $100,000 each for an immediate Guarantee Fund of $2,500,000. This sum will supply imperative needs and will convey to the country an assurance that New York City is in earnest.

Some action of this kind is rendered necessary by the unaccountable delay in formulating a fiscal scheme. Let the earnest friends of New York be heard from at once. No other moment should be wasted.

HIGH PRICED FUN.
The White Star steamship people, disheartened by the failure of the Tentative to outstrip the Inman champion City of Paris, have ordered their boat to the dry-docks at Liverpool to be fitted with new propellers and be put in better racing trim. The mind stands still and the lean pocketbook of the poor man tingles at the wild way in which money is spent by the owners of these giant racers, all for the honor of an hour.

Yachting has been held an expensive sport, but this keeping up of ocean steamships for racing boats must require a diminutive Gold or Ophir, or something of the sort.

Well, spend your money, you plutocratic companies. Some honest workmen are getting the good of it.
"IT'S DIFFERENT IN ENGLAND."
There are sluggers in America who fancied themselves too good to slug PETER JACKSON, just because his skin was black. What do they think of him now, hobnobbing with sporting nobility and matched to fight the champion of England, with a real live lord for stakeholder? Meantime the punchers who called him a "nigger" stay at home, get deathly drunk and disappoint audiences who are waiting to watch these slug their eggs.

"When you come to think of it, the darky gets the best of it."
And yet this America is the home of equality.
No wonder WARNER MILLER has gone under Mr. PLATT'S wing. JOHN J. O'BRIEN and "BARNY" O'BRIEN and JOHN BRODSKY telegraphed yesterday to B. HARRISON, President, Washington, D. C.: "We are outside the breasted with WARNER MILLER."

There is some company that even misery doesn't love.
TANNER, in his "confidential" letter to DALZIEL, said: "I couldn't kick."
No; if he could Private DALZIEL would by this time look like the remains of a fifty-cent table d'hôte.

CHIPS.
Chokers out of fashion—Hangers.
Emperor William is a friendly soul. When Mr. William Walter Phelps, the new Minister, called on him yesterday, he detained him so long that Mr. Phelps missed his train.
Mr. Paddy Ryan, the whimsical heavy-weight champion, has been soundly thrashed in a San Francisco saloon by a man whom he had invited. Men of his size are not much on the outside of the ring.
Here's another from Chicago. The women have arisen in their might and say that they will out the gamblers. What will the Windy City do without its gambling houses?
A Wheeling, W. Va., woman, dissatisfied with the Justice before whom she was arraigned, knocked him down and choked him. When the Justice recovered his wind he sentenced her to jail for a year.

In the Spring the maiden's away
Turn to love, love, love, love;
In the Spring the young man's going
To love, love, love, love, love;
In the Spring the mother's sigh
Think her daughter's love should call;
In the Spring the old man's mad
Turn the dog loose in the hall!
—T. S. Arthur.

At a Virginia church meeting last night a young woman took the floor, denounced a razor and called upon the devil to stand up and try conclusions there and then. The devil didn't accept the challenge.
A group of discontent comes from the United States Secret Service Department. It has had nothing to do for two months owing to the unprecedented delinquency in the counterfeit money market.

Mr. Junebride (reflectively)—Handsome is as handsome does.

POLITICAL ECHOES.
"All I want is Fred Gibbs' head," said Alderman James A. Cowie, of the Thirteenth District. "They have offered me all the patronage—money, too, but they'll have to present me with Wicked Gibbs' head yet."
"The Thirteenth District Republicans didn't go to Saratoga to get O'Brien's dose," remarks Alderman Cowie. "They saved their money to make the campaign a little livelier."

Assemblyman John Connelly, of the Nineteenth District, has had his course in the Legislature indorsed by the Washington Heights and West Side Taxpayers' Associations, and his friends tell him that these boasts will eventually land him in the seat of Senator Eugene S. B. B.

Although credited with being a prohibitionist, the members of the Prohibition party repudiate the Republican candidate for Secretary of State. The prohibitionists are consistent politicians, and would not support Neal Dow himself should he attempt to sail into office on anything other than the solid ground of temperance.

Everybody came home from the Saratoga Convention happy, although the happiness of each proceeded from different causes. Mr. T. C. Platt is happy because he had his own way, and Johnny O'Brien because he is now permitted to have his without being branded a traitor to his party.

FASHION'S FADS.
Worth, the famous dressmaker, said of Mrs. William Belmont: "She was a delight to dress on account of her splendid indifference to me. I will always remember her as the one American woman who demanded a high low-necked dress."
Mrs. Eli-Goddard affects the Chinese in all household matters but cooking. Her rooms are full of screens, rugs, paws, dragons, peacocks and decorative work from the Orient, and all the male servants about her establishment, the coachman excepted, are natives of the Flowery Kingdom.

Mrs. Jesse Grant has a valuable collection of antique candlesticks.
Mrs. Grever Cleveland has a penchant for coral jewelry. Her taste in the matter has been the subject of much criticism.
Mrs. W. H. Hutchinson, of Fifth Avenue, uses a scent on her pocket handkerchiefs for which she pays $1 a drop.

Mrs. Harriet Hubbard Ayer spends a small fortune for Mahoeval Niel roses, bunches of which she wears down through her brown leather belt.
OFF THE STAGE.
Miss Nannette Comstock is the sister of Alexander Comstock, of the Academy of Music. Miss Comstock is very young, she studied in Dr. Boeckmann's school and appeared with his pupils at the Madison Square Theatre.

Daniel Bandmann is always severely undressed. Mr. Bandmann speaks with a slight German accent. He is a very vigorous talker and is full of reminiscences and stories of interest to the dramatic profession.
Miss Sadie Marriot has become very foreign and is inclined to be distinctly ceremonious. But Miss Marriot is so bright and charming that her smiles soon melt the crust of formality in which she sometimes encases herself.

Miss Pauline Hall on Broadway yesterday was dressed in excessive black. Black hat, black dress, black gloves. These sombre garbs, however, were extremely becoming, a fact of which Miss Hall was of course aware.
STOLEN RHYMES.
Love's Evanescent.
Love comes again! Then all those past
This one to this one, and that one to that one,
Ah! love, I know you cannot last,
And so I hold you all the tighter.

What more unstable is the love that
What dealer of more evanescent?
While the dear one's presence is the dream
Of life the love that made the dream.

Love flies, but always leaves behind
From his gay wing a golden feather.
A something radiant to remind
Of days when love was true and true.

Never love, new life. While this one last
Why not enjoy the moment?
And then to find the love that
Again our most loved loved feather.

THEIR FIRST BEACON.

I wonder now would she say yes?
I wonder now would she say yes?
Of one proposed to learn no.
And would, if only she say no.

RAY'S OF SUNSHINE.
Some More Brooklyn Candidates for "The Evening World's" Prize.
Little Isabel Sanderson Has a Wealth of Dark, Curly Tresses.
THE EVENING WORLD has received several inquiries from anxious mothers in the last two or three days asking if pictures of their darlings had been received. They may all rest easily, for all have arrived safely and are being well cared for.
Isabel Sanderson heads the aggregation of infantile beauty to-day, and her mamma writes proudly:

ISABEL SANDERSON.
To the Editor of The World.
Please find enclosed our baby's picture taken at nine months. Her name is Isabel, born Aug. 8, 1887. Her father's name is Charles Sanderson, aged thirty-two, a carpenter. Her mother's maiden name was Rebecca Thompson (Clark), aged thirty-four, English. Baby is now thirteen months old and is very intelligent, with a wealth of dark hair which falls in lovely curls around her very pretty little shoulders. My present address is Mrs. SANDERSON, 341 Central Avenue, Brooklyn.

MABEL GRAY FRANK.
Another Brooklyn mamma writes:
To the Editor of The World.
Enclosed with this letter please find picture of our baby girl, Mabel Gray Frank, born Sept. 27, 1887, at 105 Lorimer street, Brooklyn. E. D. Her mother's maiden name is Jennie Adams, born June 22, 1858. Her father, John N. Frank, was born March 14, 1858, in England. I am of American parentage. My husband is a druggist. Mr. Frank, of Blindef, Robbing street, will vouch for this statement. Very truly yours,
Mrs. J. N. FRANK.

EDNA HANSENBERG ALSTON.
Still another Brooklyn mother writes:
To the Editor of The World.
I send baby's photo to take her chance with the other little ones. It was taken two months ago and is a good likeness. Our baby's name is Edna Hansenberg Alston, born Jan. 12, 1888. Her father's name is William Henry Alston, born Sept. 11, 1848. He is an electro-plate and an American. Her mother's maiden name was Sarah Carpenter, born March 6, 1848, in England. Respectfully yours, Mrs. Alston, No. 443 E. 14th Avenue, Brooklyn.

Mrs. Hansenberg, No. 443 E. 14th Avenue, Brooklyn, can vouch for the truth of this.
SPORTING GOSSIP.
There is a prospect that Toomer will challenge O'Connor or Hyman this Fall, for the latter has made his "farewell" bow to professional rowing last Spring, yet he seems to be still open for engagement.

FALLING SICKNESS AND ST. VITUS DANCE.

Epileptic Fits Cured.
For years a cure for Epilepsy and other fits caused by disease of the nervous system. It is now conceded by physicians, druggists and the people that the long-needed remedy has been found in Dr. Green's Nervine, which has, by curing thousands of cases, proved that it is a specific for those terrible nervous complaints. It is a harmless vegetable remedy, and a sure and positive cure for all nervous diseases. For sale by all druggists at $1 per bottle.

My son has been troubled with epilepsy, loss of appetite, and had no ambition to do anything. After trying several remedies he took Dr. Green's Nervine, and I can truly say that it made him a new boy. Tom fits have left him, his appetite is full, he is happy, and he is enjoying perfect health. It is the best medicine I ever used, and after trying others I find it has no equal.
MR. W. SCHUM,
70 West 43rd St., New York City.

In order that others may learn of the wonderful medicinal virtues of Dr. Green's Nervine, I will state what it has done for me. For a long time I suffered from epileptic fits. Tried several things that were recommended, hoping to get relief, but without any result. I was unable to do any work. I had as many as thirteen convulsions in a single day. It is now over six months since I began the use of Dr. Green's Nervine, and I am happy to say that during this time I have not had a single convulsion or symptom of the old disease.
HENRY JONES,
West Philadelphia, Pa.

Dr. Green, the famous specialist in the cure of nervous and chronic diseases, of 35 West 14th St., New York, can be consulted free of charge, personally or by letter.

No Balm on Sunday.
(From the Free Telegram.)
A certain politician holding office in Washington comes from Gilead, N. H., and he is proud of his native town. It is told of him that on one occasion a visiting clergyman preached in the village church and during the course of his remarks he exclaimed:
"Is there no balm in Gilead?"
Mr. Blank jumped to his feet at once.
"Of course there is," he sang out, to the horror of the congregation, "but you can't get it on Sunday."
